His Holy Pope Leo XIV

Saudi-American media personality Muna Abusulayman would know Cardinal Dominique Mathieu very well as Mr Clément Feraud from Paris XII. He is wanted in Belgium as suspect no 7 and 22 of the Brabant killers

Holy Pope Leo XIV,

I thank God for the very quick election of the new Pope who will lead a path for health, wealth and prosperity for all under one God. I am very grateful for the outcome and it is my honour to be part of the path to unity in diversity.

This moment is very beautiful and exciting. The enthusiasm for an American Pope is enormous, but unfortunately our world is infested with dangers that we don't always suspect. Our happiness is in danger. We have to protect the good energy of the momentum and make it last as long as possible, and keep out those who want to ruin everything out of misfortune.

I was following the news with excitement but also with some preoccupation for the security of the Christian believers. When I notice a threat, I feel obliged to signal that to the Head of State and to the police.

I have the honour to share my letter to His Excellency Donald Trump, the President of the United States of America and my letter to Her Excellency Giorgia Meloni, the Prime Minister of Italy entitled: "Arguments against the participation of Cardinal Dominique Mathieu Dutroux in the election of the next Pope. He is disturbed by a Christianity that embraces ethnic diversity. He is afraid that all the money will go to the people of coloured. Cardinal Dominique Mathieu of Arlon is the same man as Dominique Mathieu of Freetown (Sierra Leone) who has a secret bank account at Ambrosiano Bank"

This letter is to notify the presence of a highly dangerous serial killer who is trying to make a career at the Vatican, and who was part of the council of Cardinal to be elected to become the next. I only want to make sure he doesn't get any job anywhere in the world.

For His Excellency Donald Trump, President of the USA: Arguments against the participation of Cardinal Dominique Mathieu Dutroux in the election of the next Pope. He is disturbed by a Christianity that embraces ethnic diversity. He is afraid that all the money will go to the people of colour. Cardinal Dominique Mathieu of Arlon is the same man as Dominique Mathieu of Freetown (Sierra Leone) who has a secret bank account at Ambrosiano Bank (pdf) (español)

This is the file containing his secret accounts in Italy:

As Paolo Reggiani from Brescia and he is hiding 54,816,097.00 Euro at the Banco Ambrosiano in Pisa since 16 January 1992, and as Alessandro Petacchi from Palermo he is hiding 61,188,324.00 Euro at the same Banco Ambrosiano in Pisa since 7 August 2014.

- As Paolo Reggiani from Brescia and he is hiding 54,816,097.00 Euro at the Banco Ambrosiano in Pisa since 16 January 1992, and
- as Alessandro Petacchi from Palermo he is hiding 61,188,324.00 Euro at the same Banco Ambrosiano in Pisa since 7 August 2014.

Secret bank accounts with false identities in Italy

- As Dominique Mathieu from Freetown (Sierra Leone) he opened a secret account at the Banco Ambrosiano in Pisa on 7 March 2016 at 1.48 pm. Thus, he is currently hiding in that secret account 57,000,918 Euro.

In the file with the secret accounts, you will see some other names. Most of them are members of his family and involved in big crime drugs trafficking, people trafficking, migrant smuggling, weapons smuggling, murders, rapes, wars, poisonings, looting, uprisings, putsches, hostage takings, executions, and all the wars which you see happening, etc.

These individuals are preoccupied with these activities every single moment of the day. They put all their mental energy into achieving a single goal: killing someone. In the Islamic religion it is strictly forbidden to share whatsoever, be it time, money or blood with individuals with this type of preoccupation to avoid building a bad karma or moral and financial debts. This is why marrying into this group is forbidden for Muslims. We must understand why, not them.

They whitewash the proceeds through the Belgian social system, such as CAW, (Centrum Algemeen Welzijn).

This is the family picture of the tribe to which Cardinal Dominique Mathieu belongs and in which he grew up. They didn't raise him to be a saint:

The Hard Core of The Brabant Killers

He currently calls himself Cardinal Dominique Mathieu, but the local news sources in his country reported that he was a Belgian citizen and that he came from Iran. I think before, in his previous life, he was the wizard of Oz. He would have become the Archbishop of Tehran last December.

My immediate question was: “then why doesn’t he represent the Christian community of Iran at the Vatican? Does he have a problem with Iran? Is this Cardinal representing Belgium, then?”

That is the first inconsistency which led me to check whether this man’s full name is Dominique Dutroux, a name I found during the investigation of the Toyota Hilux Jeeps for Islamic State.

It was his picture in the press that I took to former Al Qaeda members who confirmed that this man is called Abu Hussein. He would have told them he was an imam who preached hatred. He was the man who signed the shipping documents for the Toyota Hilux Jeeps shipped from General Motors in Detroit, Michigan to the Port of Bandar Abbas in Iran. His family, who work at GM in America, shipped the vehicles. His name is Paul Xavier de Wouters from Oplinter works at GM in Detroit, USA. He works there in the logistics department and under the false name Frank Williamson of Isle of Man

Upon receipt of the shipment, he and his aides have reportedly been driving the fleet of cars one by one to the Taliban in various locations in the region such as Afghanistan, Pakistan, Yemen, Djibouti, Eritrea, Sudan, Ethiopia and Somalia in Sub-Saharan Africa which is completely in turmoil.

It is my honour to share with Your Holiness the business case concerning the Toyota Hilux jeeps for Islamic State.

(Pub) For HE Joe Biden, the President of the United States: The Toyota Hilux Jeeps for ISIL Business Case / Our e-mail message introducing the case (español - français - Nederlands)

So, that is the kind of Imam he used to be, but he has changed now. He is a new person now. He is now a pious Catholique and at least he was honest with regards to his nationality which is Belgian.

I found his CV in local press in Belgium that I would like to share with you :

Parmi les cardinaux qui participent au conclave, il y a donc deux Belges, Joseph de Kezel, ancien archevêque de Malines-Bruxelles, et Dominique Mathieu, désigné cardinal il y a quelques mois à peine par le pape François.

D'un côté, il y a le cardinal Joseph de Kezel, 66 ans, et de l'autre, Dominique Mathieu, cardinal de Téhéran.

Né à Damme, près de Bruges, à 61 ans, il fait la fierté de ses soeurs. Face à la télévision, la famille est réunie. Ce mardi, un dernier message lui a été envoyé pour lui souhaiter bonne chance. "Lors des derniers contacts, il nous disait qu'ils étaient en train de tout fermer. C'était une mauvaise communication. Il nous a dit tout est coupé, téléphone portable, internet, c'est comme cela que cela doit se passer", raconte Annick. Leur frère fait partie des 133 cardinaux qui décideront du nouveau pape

Ce conclave marque particulièrement la famille. "Je pense que nous pouvons être fiers. Nous pouvons vraiment dire que c'est une très belle reconnaissance pour tout ce qu'il a tenté de faire. Et en même temps, pour lui, c'est une expérience unique. Je pense que je peux parler pour nous deux. Quand nous le voyons siéger là, je me dis Waouh."

Est-il progressiste?

Ordonné prêtre en 1989, Dominique Mathieu a grandi à Arlon, pus à Damme, au nord de Bruges. Durant 20 ans, il a travaillé à Bruxelles, avant de s'envoler en Iran, où il est devenu archevêque de Téhéran et fait cardinal par le pape François en décembre 2024. Plutôt progressiste que conservateur. "Il est un peu des deux. Il est progressiste, il veut aussi rajeunir le cadre, tout en gardant l'essence, la base du passé."

Pourtant, les chances qu'un de nos représentants belges devienne le nouveau pape restent faibles. "Il y a 0,01% de chances qu'il le devienne. Mais quand la fumée blanche sortira et la tenture se lèvera, je trouverai ce moment passionnant."

Aux côtés des Belges, d'autres cardinaux entretiennent aussi un lien étroit avec notre pays. Comme le cardinal philippin Virgilio David, étudiant à la KU Leuven. Ou encore le cardinal luxembourgeois Jean-Claude Hollerich, qui a passé une partie de sa jeunesse à Arlon et à Namur.

The above article says he was born in Damme, near Bruges, but that place has been an exclusively female city. He can't possibly come from there. Other sources report that he was born in Arlon. According to our research, he was born in Marcinelles. He avoids mentioning this because otherwise you will find his true name which is Félicien Alex Maurice de Wouters van Oplinter.

Allow me to refer to his CV on Wikipedia, for once:

Archevêque de Téhéran-Ispahan

Le 8 janvier 2021, le pape François nomme Dominique Mathieu archevêque de Téhéran-Ispahan des Latins, un archidiocèse iranien qui comprend six paroisses, rassemblant environ 2 000 fidèles¹, et dont le siège était vacant depuis 2014, après le départ de son prédécesseur, le sésalien Ignazio Bedini (en)². Il est consacré le 16 février suivant par le cardinal Leonardo Sandri.

Lors de l'Angelus du dimanche 6 octobre 2024, le pape François annonce que Dominique Mathieu fait partie des 21 nouveaux cardinaux à être créés lors du consistoire du 7 décembre 2024^{3,5}. Il est créé avec le titre de cardinal-prêtre de *Santa Giovanna Antida Thouret*⁶.

Le 11 janvier 2025, le pape le nomme membre du Dicastère pour les causes des Saints⁷.

There is no reference that he was involved with religion as a priest in the past until 8 January 2021 when he became the Archbishop responsible for the Christians of Teheran-Ispahan district, an area stretching 442 km long, almost twice Belgium in distance from North to South (see map of Belgium below).

In an area bigger than Belgium, there are about 2000 loyal believers who according to him need 6 parishes to follow Cardinal Mathieu's teachings. How much budget would he need for supporting the total of 6 parishes to serve on his own 2000 Christians? Could he give the names and phone numbers of each of the parish priests?

In Wikipedia he or one of his collaborators mentioned that his predecessor in Iran is called Ignazio Bedini, and that he is replacing him since 8 January 2021.

Who is Lord Ignazio Bedini and how does he look like, because this is what I found ?

He would be holder of a graduate diploma in economic sciences, like an MBA, at age 20. It is mentioned on the Wikipedia page, but it doesn't say from which school nor in which country people can graduate that fast.

Could it be the Vrije Universiteit Brussel, or perhaps Solvay Business School, where he has family working?

It shows how they win in this country and how they get rich and we stay poor no

Frère mineur conventuel

Né à Arlon le 13 juin 1963 le jeune Dominique y fait également ses études secondaires. Il entre dans l'ordre des Frères mineurs conventuels¹. En 1983, il obtient une licence en sciences économiques². La même année, il entre au noviciat des Frères mineurs conventuels en Allemagne. Il prononce ses vœux simples le 23 septembre 1984 à Damme en Belgique et entreprend des études de théologie à la faculté pontificale de théologie Saint-Bonaventure, le Seraphicum, de Rome qu'il termine en 1989.

matter how hard we work

I really wonder who the Christians are who he says have only six parishes to go to in Iran? Could they be Muslims who he converted to Christianity, who afterwards are persecuted by their families and the government? Is it these future candidates for asylum who may need a visa and a fake identity to safely flee their countries. Are these the Christians that he means? They must be Christians like himself, who are so ignorant about Islam.

Asylum seekers in Belgium likely to be granted protection on gay rights and on persecution of Christian converts

Perhaps he needs money for building 6 parishes for hiding weapons for his 2000 Taliban, that is what I think he came to the Vatican for. The day when they risk being caught, all they need to do is flee undocumented to Europe or America and explain to the authorities that he or she is being persecuted for changing religion or for being gay. This must be what he preaches in Iran.

We found a case of an Iranian woman Cardinal Mathieu might know from Iran. Her name is Farzaneh Borouni, and she was possibly an actress in her country. Cardinal Dominique Mathieu may have helped her flee her country to Ukraine, where she has been living for 10 years, before she fled to Belgium in spring 2019. It's obvious that she had to flee Ukraine I would suspect in the context of women trafficking or prostitution.

She directly arrived at the Belgian Red Cross Asylum Center in Tournai, without passing through the Center for First Arrivals of the Federal Asylum Authority. It is possible that she was flown over by a Red Cross jet aircraft.

I saw her arriving at the center a little after 10 AM, well dressed, wearing make-up and false eyelashes, the hair colouring looked like it was freshly done by a hairdresser. She had tight jeans on and high heeled sandals. She was carrying a beauty case in one hand, an executive trolley on the other hand, and a Chanel type of handbag. She was very relaxed and there was absolutely nothing refugee-like about her at all, compared to all the others who arrived stressed, tired, not with nice bags and wearing sneakers like all people on the run. The first thing she asked me was where she can buy false eye-lashes and nail polish. She had money with her. She wanted to practice grooming other women with facials, hair removal, and obviously advise on how to dress well, and perhaps also on some other things to persuade women over a certain threshold and to feel comfortable and good about it.

A Kuwaiti refugee whose friends were hanged immediately after the attempt for an Arab spring in his country, forbade his wife to attend the meetings with the other women, when he noticed Miss Borouni. Just from her catwalk, one could tell. He already had a whiff of what was in store there.

Even one Iranian Christian convert who used to have a pharmacy in Teheran and a Turkish female university professor who fled during Turkey's crackdown on academics, stopped visiting the room reserved for females which they began to transform into a beauty salon, by literally tearing down a wall to make the place bigger, and a massage table was delivered the next day after the arrival of Miss Borouni. Through outsiders she was ordering everything she needed inside the Red Cross.

Farzaneh Borouni was more successful with Safaa and her young sisters and their mother, who are from Pakistan. They too said they were Christians having trouble in Pakistan, but the head of the family, who is the father, was traveling back and forth every month between Pakistan and Belgium and he didn't look like having any trouble finding the money to support his family in exile.

In all this, I see the magnanimous invisible hand of Cardinal Dominique Mathieu, who may advise others to "play the Christian", just like he does.

There is no such thing in Islam like "conversion" to a previous religion like from Islam to Christianity, or to the next religion like from Christianity to Islam given that addresses one and the same God. One cannot talk about converting a religion like one converts US dollars into Euro. Christianity is included in Islam. An Islamic believer doesn't need to convert in Christianity to read the Bible or to go to a Church. Islam does not require Christians, Jews, Buddhists and Hindus to convert at all. "Please continue your religion" is what Islam says. Anyone in the Islamic world understood that Abu Hussein was an imposter, only he didn't know that.

A religion is something one can't choose like one would choose a soft drink in the supermarket. One doesn't shop for a religion, but one is born in a religion to fulfill a purpose, to carry out a role within that system. We have to respect all religions and we have to inquire about the different religions because that will help understand our own religion better and why we do things in a certain way.

When someone is not a Muslim, one would recognise that person from him or her saying that he or she converted to Islam, then you will know that the person is fake and understands nothing about religion in general. Conversion is viewed as a Satanic influence and that is the why families and the governments become angry and discourage conversion to stop Satan from getting into the community to start a war.

When is Cardinal Dominique Mathieu's flight back to Iran, please? Could he answer that question? My feeling is that he plans to be in Rome for quite a while, but there are already records existing about his criminal behaviour in Italy, which includes his marriage to an Italian wife found dead at her house:

Cardinal Dominique Mathieu was married and divorced many times. He has three children in Iran, one child in Italy, two children in Saudi Arabia with a French woman, two children in Morocco in Laayoun with a Swede. He has three children in Kentucky, USA, with Now he wants to become at least ambassador to the Holy City, if not the Pope

Cardinal Dominique Mathieu lived in Saudi Arabia as a result of the invitation of Muna Abusulayman's father, who was a professor at the university. Since then, Mathieu has been trying to ruin their reputation and cause them problems with the Saudi authorities. He had his cousin, Lucien Leuwenkroon, rape Muna Abusulayman in Laayoune. Mathieu knew she risked the death penalty and wanted to prevent her from returning to her country, where she owns a beautiful property in Riyadh. He wanted to expel her so he could take her house.

Muna Abusulayman's father is said to know Cardinal Dominique Mathieu as Mr Clément Feraud from Paris 12. The two have known each other since 1994. They met at the university in Grenoble in a meeting. The two men sympathised, and as is often the case with Arabs or Muslims, a pleasant contact is perpetuated usually with a personal invitation to the residence or the private sphere as a sign of great trust and to get to know the same person in ordinary everyday circumstances than in less natural circumstances such as conferences, where people approach each other in an artificial way as in Belgium, where appearance and outfit has to make the statement instead of the message itself. They don't appreciate that in Arab society, because insisting on appearances is misleading. They look beyond the surface.

There, they prefer to get to know people in simple circumstances like on picnic in the desert, to find out how much fluff you need to make your point. It is precisely that simplicity with no stress, which subconsciously attracts tourists to those countries. To maintain that way of life, those countries have to learn to defend themselves against people who want to make their point with guns, with lots of money, with endless discussions on side issues such as the faith you belong to, the long robes the men wear, the separation between men and women, the headscarf.

Corruption is the usual scheme with which the Wouters travel to all those countries and which one must expect. They end up physically hurting the population with prostitution for instance in order to make money, or they even kill them if that income is under threat, because they're psychopaths by tradition. This is the tradition which typifies a special group of Belgians which deserves the attention of UNESCO. I would fully support putting Belgium on the map with the recognition by the United Nations of that very distinct tradition.

To be hospitable was the right attitude of father Abusulayman for as long as he was directing it to the right people, or people of the same ethos, even if the religion is different and even if the person is from a different continent. You will find the same hospitality ethos with the Maori and with the American Indian. It is an ethos shared by human kind.

It is ethics that connect different religions. However, the de Wouters van Oplinter family are good at projecting great appearances as if they have ethos, as far as I know from experience, from the studies on their ultra-racist beliefs, and from the information I have been able to obtain about them through various sources, including historians. There is a great lack of ethics among these people. It is not that they are different from our ethics. It's that they just don't have any. They are bad people and teaching religion to them is not going to make them better. They will use the religion that you teach to them against you or they manipulate someone else with that to raise money for their charities like Caritas International, Pax Christi and the Red Cross. That's their plan, because I saw them do this with the multicultural diversity excellence plans I wrote for New Morocco, not for Belgium where they refuse this.

Proposal for ArcelorMittal
Foundation of 2007

et tout

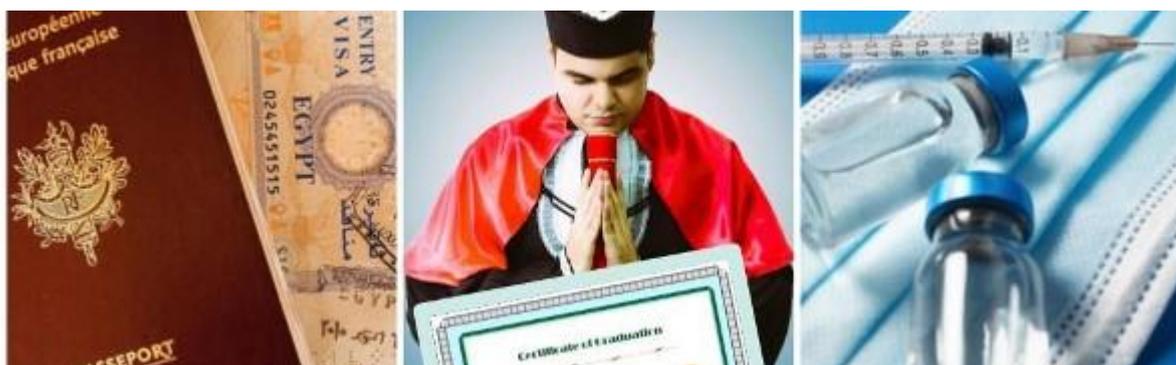

Just a couple of weeks after my meeting with the ArcelorMittal Foundation in Luxembourg, where it gave a presentation about the Center for Excellence in d-Diversity Competence and how that solution will benefit ArcelorMittal as a whole, they set fire to the offices of the ArcelorMittal exports offices in Liège which were burnt down completely.

I have always connected the fire to someone competing against me for an instrument he or she never thought about, and in order to come across as the inventor, he or she destroys all the evidence that it comes from me.

Well I am collecting evidence about who it might be who set the ArcelorMittal offices on fire, a huge building which was burnt down completely to ashes in July 2007, only because the major shareholder of ArcelorMittal is His Excellency Lakshmi Mittal from India. They burnt his business down so that he cannot be of any help to Moroccans. That is all it is.

We will remember

The arsonist is possibly Miss Marleen Seymour. I am drawing a parallel with the case of Tiffany & Co in which she is responsible for the planning and the financing of arson against a jewellery shop in Antwerp and against the private home of its owner, and an explosion in Hoboken after the denial of a recognition of her nurse's diploma from Suriname, which she requested after having pricked people with lethal injections, like my aunt Madam Halima Bouhammou at Ibn Sina University Hospital in Rabat (Morocco) between 3 and 6 September 2021.

(pub)L'explosion survenue à Hoboken le 13 juin 2024 faisait partie d'un plan d'attaque contre les forces de défense belges (Nederlands)

That is how they try to win

She is a first suspect, and chances are that she wasn't alone. We are looking into the secret accounts to see what type of transactions took place in June and July 2007. I think the job will be easier to do, now that we've discovered Félicien Alex Maurice de Wouters van Oplinter, aka Cardinaal Dominique Mathieu.

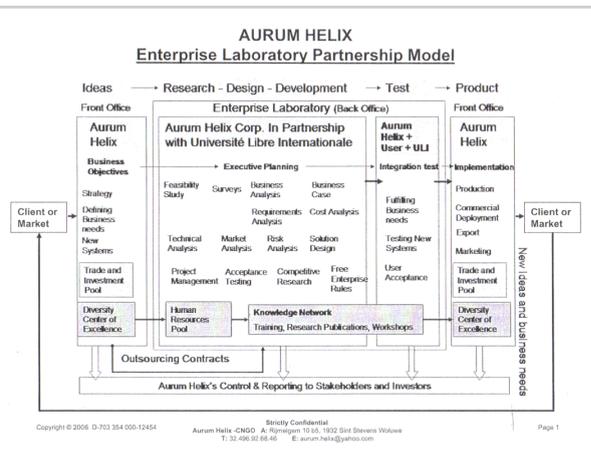

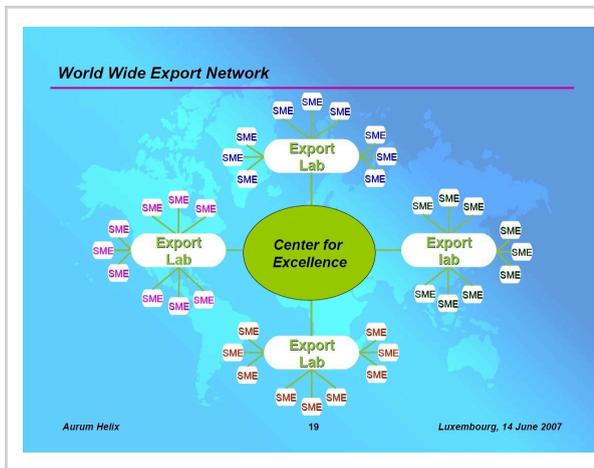

Court of Justice of the European Union:
Was the Burning of the ArcelorMittal Office Related to a Presentation for a Diversity Incubator?

His Excellency Donald Trump,
President of the USA: Ms Marleen Seymour holds 2.25 % shares in Tiffany & Co. That might explain the past attacks in Antwerp against jewellers (Nederlands - français)

The person who has been competing against me for the past 25 years, constantly putting my life in danger, is someone I have never seen or spoken to. He is now Cardinal Dmonique Mathieu. He wants to approach multicultural diversity through the Catholic Church only..... He approaches culture through the narrow view of religion only while the plan is economic and financial centered around innovation and business.

This is what I mean with multicultural diversity.

I don't see how this will work with religion only

I developed a new sovereign authority of multicultural diversity excellence. This was never done anywhere. It is an instrument that brings out potentials which otherwise remain sleeping. It doesn't work in Belgium where foreign people with talent have a lot of problems and where this group is being pushed down. They get angry at any foreigner who is a holder of a university degree. They make them suffer when they are in a position of needing social aid. There are people in those services who feel under attack once you say that you have a university diploma, particularly in subjects like “psychology”. It is like you are saying they are mentally sick and they can turn murderous. Perhaps that is what triggered the killing of Miss Olga Voronovazkaya of which the body has not yet been located.

That is why I don't show or explain anything at all in absolute to anyone Belgian. Perhaps the only error I made was to file a copyright protection with SABAM, the Belgian Authors rights organisation. That was a real error, they can't be trusted and I am founding CMIA to have the multicultural diversity file their work elsewhere and to Magrexit altogether.

Documents happen to have leaked through Miss Muna Abusulayman in Saudi Arabia to Belgian people who after reading them, guess what, they were offended. They were offended when I went to university, they were offended when I worked for Deloitte & Touche. They are offended because I use four languages in addition to Arabic. They were offended by my ecommerce webstore for Anacell, a solution for skin conditions from unknown sources, such as nuclear waste, anthrax-like infections, or even cancer. I was infected by something that Marleen Seymour reportedly sprayed in the air conditioning of my car on the instruction of Miss Anne Verhoeven, when the incompetent bunch felt offended by my obtention of a driver's license. Doctors and dermatologists were unable to identify what it was that caused my skin to dehydrate and age rapidly, and they were also unable to prescribe a treatment to clear the skin condition.

It's not like they are offended by words like normal people, who would go away and stop contact. This species becomes highly destructive even murderous when they are offended by their own perception without words, or conversations or even contact. That experience is really different from the experience in any other society in the world.

I worked out a solution myself with oils, with an approach to assemble ingredients as essential oils can damage the skin too. One needs a system as the skin is part of the immune system and that changes all the time, so the composition of the solution needs to change too. The pharmaceutical industry is not adapted to supply a medicine for every change in a person, but Anacell can do that. We end up with a new science and with more knowledge about the humane immune system.

The Anacell™ Skin Immunity Systems Program

Phase	Graph	Treatment	Time of Year	Action	Benefits
One		Organic Decontamination (mandatory)	Winter 	Profound cleansing and healing of inflammations and lesions by old or new infections	In this phase the skin will learn how to produce its own protective fluids.
Two		Organic Regeneration (recommended)	Spring 	Relaunching the skin's own cell production mechanisms.	In this phase the skin renewal system is triggered and accelerated.
Three		Organic Harmonization (recommended)	Summer 	Balancing the different functions of the skin to achieve and maintain a normal PH level	In this phase, a perfect balanced ecosystem is managed by optimal nutrition, hydration, micro-circulation and oxygenation of the skin.
Four		Organic Sublimation (optional)	Fall 	Stabilizing the skin's re-established defense system.	At this point, the skin will have found its original firmness, softness, tone and clarity. In this phase one can think about other enhancements like rejuvenation, lifting, etc.

Based on that idea, I created a starting point for the different pharmacy. They hacked my website. It was gone. I was getting a 404 for a page that doesn't exist. I couldn't get in the domain anymore to manage the content. That was in May 2011. We are 2025. They slow our economy down. They are out!

Winter 2009-2010 Organic Decontamination In Focus

Phase I Organic Decontamination

The Winter is the ideal period for purification. More than during any other season of the year, we need something that takes the poison out and that protects our skin and our bodies from the damaging effects of chemicals present in most mass consumer products (like soaps, shampoos, hairpray and skin cosmetics), from infections and from unhealthy foods (fast and sugars from all the sweet gifts we receive from others) at the occasion of the Christmas holidays. Something needs to counterbalance the toxins that we voluntarily and involuntarily ingest. Phase I of the Anacell Skin Immunity Systems program is Organic Decontamination, in which a maximum of poisons are eliminated and in which the chemicals damages skin fibers and protein cells are removed with 100 % natural materials, like volatile oils. Phase I involves a profound cleansing of the skin and scalp, and healing of inflammations and lesions by

When the results began to appear I thought of helping other people with that by developing a commercial brand named Anacell. I want to expand the knowledge already existing in Morocco to have our brand of cosmetics. That decision exacerbated all the other offences, and that is why they want to kill me.

Anacell Before & After

July - August 2024

April 2025

Even though I'm homeless, I continue my work. I found a woman struggling to hide a severe outbreak affecting her face in particular. No prescription has worked out and she travelled far to find a good dermatologist. "Would you let me try?" I asked and advised her daily rituals on how to apply. I didn't have the means to buy the precise ingredients and I needed a kitchen too. I made do with whatever I could afford. You can read from her smile that she is pleased. That is the energy we want her to be in.

A steady healing to stop this thing from reappearing on her face takes longer and she will eventually find the original state of her skin. I plan to work more on this case, if I would feel comfortable regarding accommodation or housing myself.

It can be achieved with 100% natural ingredients, no human or animal elements in it, only things comparable to the food we eat, you know the food which makes a baby become a big person? They generally don't believe that around here. That is because they don't have a belief to begin with, and that is what this letter shows based on the case of Cardinal Dominique Mathieu. What was his religion when he was shooting on Catholics in Northern Ireland?

They also are unable to think in terms of a middle way. They think that someone who works with herbs and oils is against chemical-based pharmaceuticals and cosmetics, but that is not my case. I appreciate both and my aim is to achieve multicultural excellence in this direction too.

While some people may feel proud, these people here are offended by this as well. The only thing that doesn't offend them is prostitution. They are not offended by that, and that proves that they have Satan in their ancestry.

I informed Morocco about the poisonous attitude of these development cooperation exporters with their lousy programmes which they source at the World Bank, UNDP, IMF etc. They discover that in one country and they take it to another country pretending it comes from a Belgian university. I told Morocco: "This is how they will become, the day when we begin to have our own solutions, when we create something strong, or when we do it right. DUMP THEM NOW", "they are no good" I wrote in 2013, in "The Godfather of Morocco".

They slow us down and they bring more backwardness than there already is. That is proven and now we must enter the details about them in our laws for the generations to come, to prevent their progress in our land, this time.

The only thing possible is Magrexit for what concerns Belgium. Magrexit aims to tell them that we are offended by the abuse in Belgium and also that they're very mean around here. This is not the country where these new things can be done, because they will feel eternally offended and that becomes the motive for exterminating all of us.

Their problem is that they look at human beings as bodies only. They have the look of human traffickers on each and every one of us. They do not view human beings as a potential for transformation, for improving our reality and our existence on this planet. They have a criminal potential. That is a highly negative potential which in mathematical terms equals none at all. It equals zero, donut, naught and that is all they could possibly give to Morocco with their development aid cooperation.

This is why I am staying out of their way and they must stay out of my way too, especially since they tried to kill me in 2017, with knives and machetes. I fled during a moment of lucidity, when my host Miss Colette Dongmo (a candidate airhostess) started the preparations with that sort of equipment pretending that it comes from her husband who was a cook and from whom she was separating. What if it comes from the bunch of jealous people who are unable to help Miss Dongo with job application letters to become an airhostess? I knew she was steered by a bunch of incompetent people, but I didn't have a name. I was unable to locate the person

First she was asked to prepare a plot for a murder, and then she got the job that she wanted with an airline, in charge of passenger security

In principle, I am dead now. They should not come looking for me or ask where I live and what my phone number is. I am dead and that DEFINITIVE.

God gives potential. They steal it. God gives life, They end it instead of God taking the soul back. Their souls are empty. There is no potential other than evil inside them. Aren't these people cursed? Who do they think they are?

They have a lot of money, big houses, beautiful clothes, big cars etc. yet they are extremely poor if they still need to steal anything from anyone else.

That is my observation

Cardinal Dominique Mathieu benefits from things that I don't get such as legal and financial support from his family, who are the Brabant killers and from a few holding companies, such as Sofina and Sofira, who need the money of the Vatican and of the refugees who arrived in Italy, for paying out dividends to their bondholders in Belgium. Hence the urgency with which Mr Dominique Dutroux jumped from being a Muslim convert to a Christian priest and rushed to the Vatican, last December. If only he could be the Pope, so that we take him seriously.

The Killers Who Revamped Themselves To Leading Business Executives and Academics, To Never Be Found

The Brabant killers gang enjoy forensic legal protection. By mapping covid contact tracing, we will know who protected them (français - Nederlands)

They are a mad strain of species in Belgium and I have put a cross over these people. I just can't be bothered with them. I am still talking about Cardinal Dominique Mathieu. There are plenty like him in Belgium, and it is high time Morocco and all its allies beat them back so forcefully that they will say they never thought we could be bigger monsters than they are, when we want to be. Only we are like this occasionally while they are like this permanently. That is the difference.

View a collection of proposed solutions instead of cheatfull development cooperation with Belgium, which has left the society of my country underdeveloped, illiterate and poor, because that is what Cardinal Dominique Mathieu wants for my country in order to exploit our land. Doesn't he have a land of his own?

Growing Markets Together with the Diamond Life Incubator

Building a Multicultural Economy with the BRICS

Letter to the Qatar Foundation: The Moroccan Center for International Alliances (français)

They ended up using those plans for human trafficking and I agree with the recent decision of the Whitehouse to have the words diversity removed from enterprise websites for attracting ethnic minorities towards companies. The first who started using these words are the human traffickers of course, and they will always be that because they don't have ethics. There is no other explanation for the wars and guerillas they finance all over the world than their lack of ethics .

Religion makes a person a better person, more efficient and aware of the natural laws that balance existence and enable growth. Each religion has a different method of achieving "the better self", but the goal is the same. The goal is to make the environment liveable with healthy patterns of behaviour.

An example of an unhealthy pattern or behaviour is hatred. Everyone in de Wouters family only speaks friendly and loving thoughts after having read or heard it somewhere first. They use other people's words to hide the fact that they are serial killers. My observation is that they are incapable of expressing friendly thoughts or delivering insights on the moment itself. This might explain why they rarely make public appearances, they don't give conferences and they don't participate in debates with others. Their wealth exceeds the Forbes 100 top people and companies, but they are nowhere listed as individuals. In any case, whatever nice words they say, their hateful behaviour contradicts their fine words almost immediately after saying them.

Cardinal Dominique Mathieu comes from that system. The way he relates to others is not compatible with fundamental human rights, nor with social values, much less with Islam to which he is said to have converted at one point, and from which he is apparently turning away. He used to be an imam and now he has become a cardinal.

That is called human trafficking.
He does it with himself, and thus he is by definition a human trafficker

Above all, this shows that there was something wrong with the beliefs he held previous to Islam. The big question the Vatican should ask is "What were his beliefs in the period before he converted to Islam, so to speak, and took the name Abu Hussein?. But that was just for publicity and comedy, which I have also observed with Jeanke Marc Samir de Wouters.

Mr Jeanke Marc Samir de Wouters is wanted in Morocco for the killing of a young student in Tangiers and two farmers in Oujda to get hold of their farmland. He committed those crimes under a different identity, and he has not been caught yet. He married a very young Moroccan woman according to Moroccan law for making his entrance in Morocco easy

I signaled his departure to Morocco to the Moroccan Police end September last year:

(PUB) Jeanke Mark Samir Se rend à Oujda le 30 septembre 2024 avec Air Arabia. Suivez-le comme on le fait en Algérie et en Mauritanie (l'enregistrement sonore) (Nederlands)

In Belgium he hides most of the time in the facilities of Centrum Algemeen Welzijn in Antwerp, usually among the homeless for a free meal, free clothing, free coffee, free everything. In this way, he doesn't need to use a bank card through which they can find him. He says a few words in Moroccan colloquial Arabic through which the North Africans find him immediately sympathetic, and because they generally have a bit of a hard time in the Belgian society especially when illiterate, they immediately think someone like Marc Samir might be able to help them to find a small job or to help them apply for a social house in return for a service back for him. "He is a Muslim and he loves Morocco", they think, and so they fall into his monkey show and follow him, because that is his way of approaching our people.

He must have found his wife in this way, with his monkey show as a tourist in Morocco.. Now this is a man from a family who hates the Muslims, the Moroccans in particular, and yet he wants to marry a Moroccan woman and he wants to retire in Morocco. Why bother going to a country where you hate all the people?

The answer is that he marries a Moroccan in order to use her identity for company incorporation in various countries for whitewashing drug money and loot from everywhere, such as bank robberies, the proceeds from prostitution and from migrants smuggling.

Allow me to offer the example of Madame Beatrice De Wilde who is from Congo and who has been sharing her life for 40 years with a Belgian man who calls himself Mr Joseph Gheysens. She has been waiting for him to propose for marriage, and it just doesn't happen. She doesn't know why. She is a beautician and he opened a dream salon for her, in which he employs her without paying out a salary, but he gives her plenty of cash that corrects the wrong, but the woman wanted a salary, to buy an apartment and to leave something for the three children from her marriage to a previous Belgian man in the Congo, and possibly a human trafficker too. Her current companion is into drugs trafficking particularly in Latin America.

I inquired about him, as he stole and plagiarized the group-purchasing of electricity, a system I was trying to put in place in Morocco with engineers from the British Computer Society. I discovered what his wife doesn't know, which is that his true name is Joseph de Wouters and that he was building companies using the name of his Congolese companion as the Managing Director, and thus of the person who is financially responsible. The day justice inquires about the amounts of money laundered, they will come and get her, not him. That is the reason why he never married the very beautiful Congolese woman who thought she found the man of her life. For him, she was just a desert, like a piece of chocolate to have every night, and of course like a slave.

Miss Olga Voronovazkaya has worked in their beauty salon name Beauté et Bien-être in the period after she returned from Paris where she attended an Internship at Parfumerie Douglas.

Find out more about Beauté et Bien-être . They might know more about who Cardinal Dominique Mathieu is, where he was and what he was doing before January 2021.

Who doesn't like choco and caramel like Twix ?

Majestés Roi Philippe et Reine Mathilde: La plus longue prise en otage, c'est celle par Joseph Gheysens de madame Béatrice de Wilde (Nederlands)

In the same way I see a hostage in the young Moroccan wife from Oujda of Mr Jeanke Marc Samir de Wouters. She has no clue what his activity is because she believes the fluff he said at the very beginning, when they meet which is that he is a shareholder of various companies including hotels, that he doesn't need to work for the money and that he retired from professional life, and that he only wants to travel for the fun. When he pays for a drink for him and for the wife he wants to marry, he pulls up his big fat purse with a thick pack of 100 and 500 Euro banknotes. Any girl will think "all my problems are solved". That is how he solves his problem, because he has no charisma, no sex appeal... He has the appearance of a cursed man and the amount of money covers up the curse.

I've met him and assessed him without speaking to him. He tried his monkey show on me as well and he spoke first saying "la bas?" (How are you). I didn't answer him and then he asked if I was Moroccan ? "And you, are you a Moroccan?" I asked. "Almost. My wife is Moroccan from Oujda". I knew I was talking to a tourist and I opened an inquiry to find out who that man is. He turns out to be a de Wouters.

His wife only looks at the money that allows her to buy all the daughter needs, which she has with him, to travel back and forth to Morocco several times and stay there for weeks, eating out with her friends and family, going to the beach, nice time until the day they come and arrest her for billions of Euro of money laundering through companies in Spain, Morocco, Italy, Greece, Sudan, Egypt, and for weapons smuggling to the Polisario and to Hamas, and she never knew her husband had all this. She also doesn't know her husband has a wife in Paris, under yet a different name. He is using his French wife to hide at her place when he is in Paris.

That is how he mocks marriage as an institution for a healthy society. He has the same father as Cardinal Dominique Mathieu.

Jeanke Marc Samir de Wouters is also on the run for the police in Belgium, where he uses his Moroccan wife's identity for renting an apartment. As he is not married to her according to the Belgian law, he uses the apartment for hiding, and that is how he uses a Moroccan for being trackless for the Belgian Federal Police. He is suspect number 8 of the Brabant killers. This is his robot photo by the Belgian police generated between 1990 and 1997

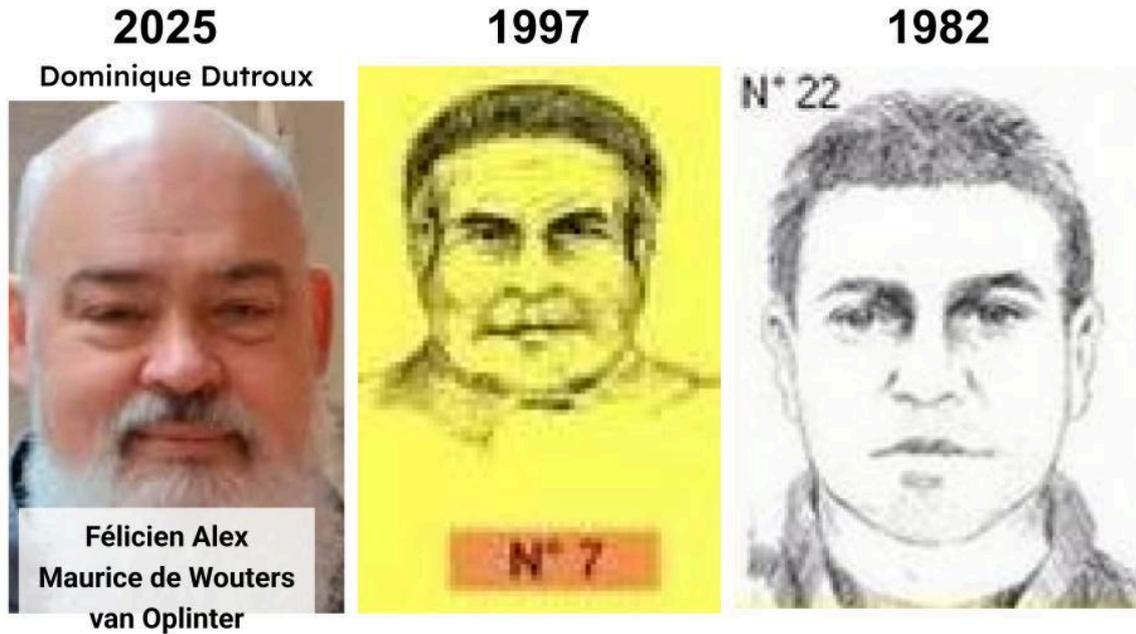

And this is the robot photo for Cardinal Dominique Mathieu. He takes after the robot photos number 7 and 22 of the Belgian Federal police generated between 1990 and 1997 in the context of the Brabant killings between 1982 and 1986 consisting of armed robberies mainly of supermarkets such as Delhaize and Colruyt, but also small businesses like jewellery shops and arms dealers.

The new insight that CMIA developed recently is that those robberies which were committed by the same family members have a direct link with dropping the share prices of the supermarkets which they attacked in order to have their holding company buy those shares. What do they need a robbery with deaths for unless the intention is to bring down the value of the supermarkets well as the shares.

The other ambition in that period of the 1980ies was to become shareholders of Parfumerie Douglas. They needed to raise capital for that, and they did it this way while being owners of banks like Societe Generale, BNY Mellon and Deutsche Bank Belgium.

It is called greed.

The robot photos below were made based on the description by witnesses and survivors of the shootings in Belgium. The approximations correspond with Cardinal Dominique Mathieu or Félicien Alex Maurice de Wouters van Oplinter, by his real name. Suspect number 22 is the closest to a man between 18 and 24 in 1982. Thus, it was in his interest to flee and hide in other countries. Should he come now to Belgium, he will be arrested immediately. This is why I think he will stick around in Rome.

To survive in foreign countries as criminals on they rely on development cooperation, NGO's and volunteering, as these are officially recognised informal structures in which there is no track kept of how the funds are spent and who is doing what. They invaded the whole of Africa with NGO's filling the economy and occupying people with activities that yield no income to support themselves, while the NGO pick up the food and accommodation bill of individuals like Félicien Alex Maurice de Wouters. Most local governments were not suspicious of the NGO's who were actually channelling criminals on the lookout for opportunities such as natural resources such as gold, diamonds, copper to become influential in their country of origin, in order to escape justice with power and money. That is how the Brabant killers survived to the point that the Belgian people think the attacks are a myth and that the Brabant killers never existed.

You can recognise NGOs with close ties to international criminal gangs or guerrillas by the fact that they are richly supported by the World Bank who helps in maintaining the criminal structures in the developing nations.

Cardinal Dominique Mathieu understands this subject perfectly because his whole family are bondholders of the World Bank while the governments of all the countries pay contributions only to maintain their yearly membership and to earn voting rights at the United Nations, and they get absolutely nothing back. That is how the wars we see around the world are ultimately financially supported by the World Bank, like the war in Gaza. It is that big reserve of money called the World Bank which explains why all these wars are lengthy, with guerilla's and their leaders looking good and healthy, well fed and they are never cold, and all this in an environment where everyone lacks everything, including clean drinking water.

Is what the World Bank does Christian behaviour? Is Cardinal Dominique Mathieu a bondholder of such a bank?

If so he should be fired immediately

HE President Donald Trump: Do Fake Banks Matter More Than Black Lives? Oh Yeah?(English - français - Nederlands - español)

Do you think Cardinal Dominique Mathieu was a Christian and was brought up Catholic? I don't think so. I think he is a savage who has never been tamed, and who has the good fortune of coming from a country where Justice does not oblige him to be any better, where Justice does not contribute to a higher civilisation by releasing convicts too soon based on the apparent good behaviour (like the apostasy of Cardinal Dominique Mathieu and Abu Hussein) and by delaying the outcome not only of the Brabant killers investigation, but many other murders that they file as "cold cases".

They prefer that a murder is filed as a cold case than to say that the person was killed for her identity papers with which they open secret bank accounts in foreign countries or for their terrorists. In the years previous to the war in Ukraine in 2022, you were running the risk of getting killed if you are Polish, Russian, Hungarian, Bosnian, and sometimes even German, and if you come to Belgium.

For what concerns the Russian woman, whose name is Olga Voronovazkaya there is no police file existing because her disappearance has never been the object of any police investigation. If she is dead, then her body is missing. Her tracks stop in Belgium, possibly in Antwerp.

The last element we found is that she attended French classes at Vrije Universiteit Brussel \(VUB\). This is the university I attended, where I clashed with Professor Roland Willemyns who gave me zero after I requested if he could repeat his question.

I escalated the incident to the Rector of the VUB and I drafted a complaint letter against Professor Roland Willemyns saying that he asked me only one question that I didn't hear and he gave me zero upon me asking to speak louder and repeat the question. In addition the question was related to a footnote in the book about psycho-linguistics. That is all that happened. The VUB was supporting the abuse because that is who they are, they support the transgressor and the injustices he does because he stands strong. He is a professor, he is their colleague, and after all, he is their compatriot. He has all the knowledge and I am a student, I am not their colleague, I am a woman and above all I am not their compatriot.

They were not prepared to see that this man was delaying my progress, trying to get me to repeat the whole year for a stupid reason which is that he didn't want to answer my request to repeat his question. That is the part that I attribute to racism, not only on behalf of the professor, but also on behalf of the entire university because that is how racism works. It makes people blind, so blind that they support the wrong cause even though it feels very right to them at one moment - when all of a sudden I was viewed as an intruder in their country. How about them in my country? Who has villas and resorts in the disputed territory of the Western Sahara like the one in which Miss Muna Abusulayman got raped? It's Belgians like Cardinal Dominique Mathieu and his nieces and nephews like Mr Lucien Leuwenkroon and Attorney Inès Wouters and their entire family. They come with fake identities from another Western country, and thus they travel illegally to Morocco.

Are they not Intruders?

His Majesty King Charles III and Her Majesty Queen Camilla of the United Kingdom of Great Britain, Northern Ireland and Commonwealth: There are many de Wouters involved in the disappearance of King Hassan II. The four key people are Mrs Frances de Wouters, Maître Inès Wouters, Professor Sébastien de Wouters, and Mr Jean-Philippe de Wouters (pdf) (français - español)

How is it possible that a professor can be that cruel? Is racism what he wants to pass on to the next generations at this university?

It turns out that Professor Roland Willemyns doesn't have any grades himself. He was using a fake identity, which is Roland Willemijns, with the intention to cause harm and change the path of any student, the students of migrant origin in particular. This is why I am asking Morocco to stop sending students to Belgium, because our students will learn nothing in the Belgian schools.

Professor Roland Willemyns was born Vincent de Wouters, the son of Charles de Wouters van Oplinter and uncle to Cardinal Dominique Mathieu. He was obviously a fake professor.

INLA fighters in Northern Ireland reported that in his childhood he attended special education for children with mental retardation and that he bought his degree with that fake identity on it from Katholieke Universiteit Leuven (KU Leuven) against a price of at least 1 million Bef. He used to shoot them in Northern Ireland and killed many of them, and this is why they inquired about who he is.

With that fake degree he had the whole of the Vrije Universiteit Brussel (VUB) behind him when he attacked me, after he felt attacked by my letter to the Rector. After he failed me a second time, I left his faculty and eventually the university as a whole. I just couldn't be bothered with this man's scary and hairy looks.

He possibly didn't expect me to tackle the problem with registered letters. He thought that at the next session, I was going to solve my problem by wearing a mini skirt, a shirt with a cleavage, high heels sandals, and a few tears in front of him each time I got it wrong. There was a fellow student from Suriname in my class named Jenny Kappel, and she went to his exam dressed up like that and graduated with flying colours.

I don't expose myself to anyone to get more grades or anything, but it says a lot about the Vrije Universiteit Brussel. Its reason d'être could be human trafficking through the university exchanges, and that would explain why Professor Roland Willemyns uses at least 45 fake identities of various nationalities. All this professor wanted was to rob part of the student grants from the Kingdom of Morocco which they sent to me through a fake branch of the Chaabi Bank (of Morocco) in Brussels). I was expecting 80.000,00 Bef and I only received a little over half the amount awarded that year (in 1987). I found Professor Roland Willemyns secret accounts which deserve a closer investigation by the financial authorities. I got hold of that information by following him. It is stated in the Quran that Satan follows human beings. That is what he did to me, and I followed him back.

The international courts should open an investigation based on the case of Miss Olga Voronovazkaya and Miss Gloria Downes from Ghana who this professor raped and killed in the USA:

That was the professor who met Miss Olga Voronovazkaya in Rostov. Chancer are that Cardinal Dominique Mathieu was part of the Belgian delegation which met at Rostov university to find out about what it is she wanted to do combining beauty care and psychology. I will confirm this later. For the time being, the lesson is that when you have brilliant people and they have good ideas, avoid meeting anyone from Belgium. If you do that, you are dead.

Miss Olga Voronovazkaya had a safe at the KBC bank in Brussels with diamond jewellery, and that she had an internet data connection on the basis of which further searches can be made to find the last address where she used to live. As soon as we have that information, it would be logical to conduct searches at that place as a starting point, with sniffing dogs based on a piece of cloth that her family will provide.

She graduated in psychology at Rostov University in Russia and after that she was trained as a beautician. She wanted to open a beauty salon in Russia in which she wanted to assist clients in their self-esteem with psychology. That is the information we got from Russia. At Rostov University, she would have met with professor Roland Willemyns of the Vrije Universiteit Brussel and possibly with Mr Daniel Renson who was traveling back and forth to Rostov since 2010.

Mr Daniel Renson pried the Russian contacts at Rostov University out of the Armernier's hands of Mr Levon Muradyan, an Armenian refugee and a devoted Christian who dedicates his life to the cause of helping refugees and migrants in Belgium with language and computer classes, making them streetwise in Brussels, and helping them with the paperwork.

He was "coached" by Mr Daniel Renson who founded for him Progrès-Vooruitgang, a non-profit organisation and he pulled the Armenian with him to meetings and conferences with politicians and ministers to put him forward as the one who needs financial support "for the wonderful work Levon does for migrants", whereas the true objective was to skim off government funds that possibly went his secret accounts and then to various companies to

She would have shared her business plans with them, about this particular brand of salon she wanted to develop. In anycase, she was talking to two Belgian assassins in Russia, and they are capable of assassinating someone for her brilliant business concept, so that they can say that this idea comes from a Belgian university, not from a Russian university student. They want to say that a Belgian psychologist made the discovery at their university.

Belgian universities and psychologists are limited by their own fear of anything foreign.

That is why they need foreigners' business plans to hide their narrow minds and pretend to be inclusive.

What Belgium deserves is not higher import duties but an international boycott.

Both men are shareholders of Parfumerie Douglas and they are on the lookout for new ideas in this way, by cowardly assassinating the individual who thought of it. She followed their promise to do her internship

This is how they do business in Belgium, with knives, hunting rifles, injections, by throwing people through the window from the highest floor, by putting poison in the drinks. They find this normal.

It was reportedly Professor Roland Willemyns who provided the student visa for Miss Olga Voronovazkaya, for coming to the Vrije Universiteit Brussel. The visa was likely fake as the Ministries of Foreign Affairs in both Belgium and Russia

They accuse the wrong people and they don't punish the true criminals and thus it becomes a way of life, a way of creating wealth, and the economy of this country. It has been like this at least since 1936.

This is also resulting in a population that is shrinking due to couples not marrying, divorces, murders, prostitution resulting in infertility, and with the spread of all kinds of diseases such as cancer, Alzheimer's, AIDS, and all that points to a silent eradication, not to mention the high rates of depression and suicides in this country, if not one of the highest in the world (18,4 per 100,000 people, which is a lot when you only have 11 million people). Possibly those depressions and suicides have something to do with bills and debt, which also points to how they relate to money matters in this country. They need to cheat and commit fraud to have a margin for paying for the basics.

Just those figures on suicide and the low number of people attending Church or catechesis show that Belgium can hardly be considered a Christian country by fact, and Cardinal Dominique Mathieu is a product of this country.

Therefore, Muslims and Arabs, who can also be Jews or Christians, need an additional protocol than the generous hospitality to honour the foreigner. That other protocol to deal with the Wouters' kind is not taught in Islamic countries. As of now, it shall be. Tender for Public Private Partnership: From Mawazine to Panama Papers (Nederlands - français - español)

One suggestion is not to invite this particular species from Western Europe to the private sphere and not to expose the family to this wild stranger whose real origin one cannot ascertain with precision. What should one expect from someone who changes his name every day and brings out different identity papers ?

Only God knows from what hole this Cardinal Dominique Mathieu crawled, and Mr Abusulayman takes him to Saudi Arabia ? That could earn him a few lashes one day or bringing or inviting someone like that.

Besides, the opposite never happens. That Clément Feraud from Paris 12, probably never told Papa Abusulayman "come on leave with your family with us in Paris". Why doesn't he? It is because he is not from Paris and he does not live there, and also because he uses multiple fake identities.

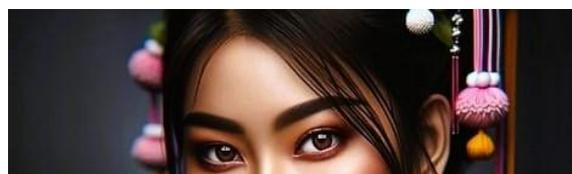

In general, I have never heard a European say to an Arab or an African "come with your family on holiday with us". I asked around among Latinos and they confirmed the same thing. They too invite, but the Belgians don't invite them, probably because they don't want these people in their homes, especially since they are usually big families and real Catholics or real Christians, who do a prayer first before they start eating, another prayer after eating, one before going to bed and another one when getting up. "Do they have to do their prayers again now?" they would think here. Letting a student stay with them, they see better.

In the Arab countries and in Islamic countries, but especially in Africa, the peoples should be trained in the schools to be better able to cope with those rude people in Western Europe and especially to never again say "come on holiday with us" to that particular European. They should also make those tourists pay higher taxes at the border otherwise they will lose revenue in other ways with those tourists.

Next, European passport holders do not need visas to go to all those countries. And they have enough financial options to stay somewhere else in a poor country other than in the homes of the people. They can very well draw their plan anywhere. Why tell this group to "come and holiday with me".

Compared to Clément Feraud or Cardinal Mathieu, Islamists, Arabs and Africans need visas and other paperwork and evidence for every move in Europe about what they intend to come here to do

My mother made that mistake of generous hospitality that she paid for with her sister Halima's life 35 years later . She herself was crippled with false advice on Vitamin D and with a flu vaccine that played tricks on her this time.

Father Abusulayman also made that big mistake, exposing his daughter Muna to this extremely wild man who corrupted her. The two allegedly met in Jordan, far from Saudi Arabia's moral police. They were with the family of the cook who had tried to kill His Royal Highness Prince Alwaleed bin Talal with a poison that comes from Belgium, which Miss Marleen Seymour brought with her to Saudi Arabia, while on visit to Miss Muna Abusulayman's house. Miss Seymour passed on the poison to a staff member of Prince Alwaleed's housekeeping, when both women went to visit one of the kitchen aids. The poison was likely contained in a minuscule bottle for sample perfumes, perhaps with a sprayer, so that anyone would think that salt is being sprayed on the food.

Miss Muna Abusulayman may not have noticed when the poison was passed on, and she was aware of nothing. The bottle is so small that one can pass it on during a handshake.

That Jordanian family is said to know Cardinal Dominique Mathieu by the name of Clément Riveaux from Fontainebleau. He could be the organiser of the poisoning against His Royal Highness Prince Alwaleed, in the context of his competition to put into practice the multicultural economy program, that I sent to Saudi Arabia and not to Belgium where they are opposed to diversity, and thus THEY SHUT THEMSELVES OUT!

They have that programme in place. We congratulate them and wish them all the best of luck with it. Now it is Morocco's turn to have their programme, after at least 21 years of delays caused by Belgium. A nation of hardly 11 million people has been delaying a nation of around 40 million people. Causing delays is part of their values in Belgium. We have never prevented Belgium from doing anything. They constantly do.

Our programme will be different from the one Belgium is rolling out, and which they plan to roll out everywhere with development aid and big loans from the World Bank. This bank is part of their system which never cared about any diversity in the 79 years they have been around, and which simply cannot be part of our system any longer. I am very glad for Belgium to be the pioneer. Congratulations. I recommend taking that programme to UNESCO to tell them that ethnic diversity is part of Belgium's cultural heritage.

This nation is going to do very well.

Discover more about this wonderful tool apparently for inclusion:

Could you imagine that in 2017, I was almost killed like Mr Jamal Khashoggi or Madame Denise Janssens, or like her best friend Baroness Louise Marie-Löwenkron le Lion for this inclusion tool, for this extraordinary result?

They don't kill by accident. It's a habit
It's up to us not to cross their path.

Like all Belgian initiatives, they never have a founder, author or inventor, they don't have an office address, there is no reference to VAT number of a company number at least. It's like they built their very first house without a door to get inside. They didn't advertise a bank account number for receiving donations at least. In other words, there is no transparency and everything is occult about how it all began, which experience was at the basis which guarantees that Duo will be successful if the same path was followed by others. If they could just add these elements to increase their company value, to be a little more credible .

Perhaps Cardinal Dominique Mathieu only wants to raise a lot of money with that since the multicultural economy involves almost the entire planet except himself and his folk. Given his hateful background, he will only purchase weapons and train child-soldiers to shoot down everybody. Perhaps this competition brought him to the Vatican after having tried to push that forward in the Islamic countries. Though my initiative is to create a business organisation that aims to shape a multicultural identity, and it must not be driven by any of the religious organisations, in order to guarantee that all the great religions are included. His plan is to steer that economy from the Vatican

He has been interfering with a business he has no clue of.

Miss Marleen Seymour was married into de Wouters dynasty and gave them children in Suriname. She may have de Wouters blood in her veins as well, which might explain her hatred against the whole black race, and she is jet black herself.

For His Majesty King Salman of Saudi Arabia: Belgian sources say Miss Muna Abusulayman tried to poison her boss, His Royal Highness Prince Alwaleed. Or, is it just one more blow to make her suffer again?

Ms Muna Abusulayman and her father are probably not aware of all these details, which is that their friends in Jordan know the same man under a different name. Perhaps these friends in Jordan were richly paid by Cardinal Dominique Mathieu to keep it all quiet and to accuse Miss Muna Abusulayman of poisoning her employer so as to cause her beheading.

That is what they want for anybody born beautiful
It is why Morocco and Thailand have to shut their door to this highly jealous species.

The Thai people look like coming straight from Paradise
They make them suffer because they are awesome

What makes us happy, makes them unhappy
They don't like real-life Barbie dolls

It shows that Cardinal Dominique Mathieu has been jealous of Muna Abusulayman all along, since his first visit to Saudi Arabia in 1994, and looking for ways to destroy her ever since. Only she didn't see that. She knows his folk hate Muslims by default for unclear reasons, but she somehow thought that a racist attack only happens to other people, and that when it does, it was triggered by the victim of the racist attack. She thinks in terms of cause and effect as it applies to rational human beings.

My experience in Belgium is that there is no rational cause for the hatred and the attacks. I'm sure I've been indirectly attacked by Cardinal Dominique Mathieu in every conceivable way, even though I've never seen him before in my life.

As he competes against me for the multicultural diversity projects, which Miss Muna Abusulayman must have leaked to him, I suspect that he organised the electrical cut off in my apartment in Zaventem, to slow me down. He involved more people in this, such as Mr Alexander de Wouters III, who is his family member with a position at the board of Electrabel, the Belgian State-owned electricity supplier and owner of the electrical network.

I will spare you the details about the rumours of what allegedly happened between the two, but Ms Muna Abusulayman was at that time (between 1995 and 1997) a minor according to the laws in Saudi Arabia.

Ms Muna Abusulayman was not yet 25 years old at the time making Cardinal Dominique Mathieu technically guilty of paedophilia on a citizen of Saudi Arabia on the one hand. On the other hand, as a minor, Ms Muna Abusulayman is not supposed to be responsible for what happens to her.

The escapade caused Cardinal Dominique Mathieu to take a different view of Islam, which Father Abusulayman taught as an authority. He interpreted it as a carnival and that Muslims are hypocrites if they do things that are not allowed by their Book. If they are doing this, then he feels he can do that too. He used the faith as a carnival to enable radical Islamism.

19 years later; Muna Abusulayman was raped for two days in Laayoune (Morocco) by Cardinal Dominique Mathieu's nephew, named Lucien LeuwenKroon. Possibly Cardinal Mathieu was there himself or he was aware of these plans. That is the very high price Father Abusulayman is paying for his hospitality, for saying "come on holiday with us". Meet my wife and children. I will show you Islam, Sufism, Halal and Islamic finance". Papa Abusulayman will be lucky if he only gets whipped.

What do you think Cardinal Dominique Mathieu ended up doing in Saudi Arabia? Right. He went to occupy the country there between 1996 and 1999. He got himself stuck there with a Frenchwoman who is said to still live there. Her name is Violette Mabaux from Paris. She gave him three children who now live on without their father because he no longer wants to go to Saudi Arabia, suddenly wanting to work for the Vatican. Doesn't he want to go back to Iran? What would he have done wrong there? Would he have shipped some Iranian women like Farzaneh Borouni to sex markets in Iran's neighbouring countries like Russia and Ukraine ?

My feeling is that he fled Iran

- in the context of a visa scam affecting civil servants of Tehran;
- the air crash of the helicopter in which HE President Ebrahim Raisi and his Minister of Foreign Affairs, which may have been remotely steered by a cousin or an uncle of Cardinal Dominique Mathieu who holds a position at the European Space Agency;
- that he clashed with Iran-supported Hamas in Palestine, perhaps over the cowardly execution in front of camera of Al Jazeera Journalist Shereen Abu Akleh, which his cousin Lucien Leuwenkroon financed;
- In the context of the rape of Miss Muna Abusulayman which possibly happened on his property in Laayoune, that he possibly under the fake name Gerard Delvoix from Valenciennes ;
- In the context of the utterly savage killing in Istanbul \(Turkey\) of Mr Jamal Khashoggi, who supposedly was his friend. The killers were two Cardinal Dominique Mathieu's family members named Miss Marleen Seymour and Mr Alfons Nuyts.

I have the feeling that with all this and more, he will never go back to any Islamic country anymore, and he seeks to hide at the Vatican to eventually make the search for him look like a clash of civilisations.

His Excellency Dr.Masoud Pezeshkian, the Honorable President of the Islamic Republic of Iran: How much did the Iranian delegation pay for a visa for the Urban Summit in Brussels?

There was a reward of 500,000 USD on Shereen Abu Akleh's head (français)

The Washington Post journalist, Mr Jamal Khashoggi, was probably another such person like father Abusulayman, who proudly invites a foreigner to make that cross-cultural connection, to be allowed to be that bridge between East and West. the Colleagues at newspapers of Mr Jamal Khashoggi could attest to this.

He may have made the same mistake as father Abusulayman. He is said to have known Cardinal Dominique Mathieu personally in Saudi Arabia, with one demonstrating his generosity while the other jealousy waiting for the right moment to break or destroy the Khashoggi family with the murder of his Saudi pal by the Brabant killers, who were in Istanbul during the day when Mr Jamal Khashoggi disappeared. His body was found cut up in pieces. What was that for, after drugging and killing the man? That is a demonstration of how much Cardinal Dominique Mathieu hated the Washington Post journalist while he pretended to be his friend.

Mr Jamal Khashoggi was killed by the descendants of the Crusaders. You are right if you say this is the Red Cross (pdf) (social brief)

In Saudi Arabia, they are used to the British and Americans, which have become great nations thanks to their civilisation. They have Celtic civilisation and they are Christians by culture. Both father Abusulayman and Ms Muna Abusulayman thought they were dealing with white people like the Americans and the British. They never expected to be treated so cruelly by Westerners whom they thought were friends and understood human rights, democracy and freedom.

Ms Muna Abusulayman thought the Saudis are wild people and made her complaint to Al Jazeera. I alerted her boss in the hope that she would also be alerted that she was dealing with gangsters who are only going to abuse and harm her out of jealousy. There is a big difference between the conservative men with beards and the Belgian satanists with evil eyes. That is the problem she faced. Her father opened the door to the evil eye.

The difference is that those conservative men with beards are not jealous and they are not possessed with hatred like those extreme racists of Belgium, they have all the evil attributes one can possibly imagine. That is why I wrote to her boss to mention that her job is to give a good image of her country, that, for someone who gets all the cameras pointed at her, she should appreciate all Saudis, including the conservative men with beards.

Analysis and Audit Report to the attention of Ms Muna Abusulayman, Managing Director of the Kingdom Foundation (Note to the Chairman of the Kingdom Holding Company)

They had been dealing with the Enemy all these years, who has no human rights, no democracy and above all no freedom, as Muna was tied up to enable her rape, with absolutely no one in the whole of that gang having the slightest ethics to free or defend her.

I am talking about a grandchild of Enemy who needed World War I and II to commit robberies and kill people to get rich quick that way and then says it was the Germans. Everyone knows it wasn't the German government. That was the family of Cardinal Dominique Mathieu

It is possible that Ms Muna Abusulayman does not even know that Mr Clément Feraud is a cousin of Lucien Leuwenkroon, of Inès Wouters and of Jacqueline de Croÿ so she may still have maintained contact with someone who passes on all her subsequent intentions to Lucien Leuwenkroon. She doesn't think so because she thinks Clément Feraud is a Frenchman, and therefore from a different country than Lucien Leuwenkroon. Though, they are traitors.

I know how they function because they tried this with me too. After the 1990 false accusation, each time they sent someone posing as a friend or a friend to find out how that court case they initiated with lies evolved, but they failed. They themselves had no insight into that file until I had posted a pardon letter to the King of the Belgians on my website with the verdict in it, in November 2018. Only then did they find out that a lawsuit existed.

For 28 years, I kept that quiet also from my family to avoid passing on information to third parties. In this way, only one source existed through which information would leak, and that is the lawyers.

Lawyers in Belgium are theoretically bound by professional secrecy, but when it comes to a Moroccan person, forget it. The risk of them passing documents, such as alibis, to the other side is very high. I expect that, because they are very dishonest in Belgium.

I dumped one lawyer after another so that third party that I was unable to identify by name, would find themselves having to bribe lawyer after lawyer every time. I was 24 when I made that kind of decision in terms of my contact with Belgian society. That is a very bad society in which traitors are produced.

I didn't discuss my problems with anyone. I bought books by Holocaust survivors or writers whose parents had been in the destructive camps to better understand the problem I was experiencing in Belgium and to coach myself until I got out of here. It is also with that baggage that I started working on other solutions to get everyone out of here until Belgian society looks like it did in the Ice Age when there were no immigrants. That is what they are asking for.

Ms Muna Abusulayman apparently hung out with them as far back as the 1990s, and perhaps her father has ties to the United Nations or the World Bank. Perhaps she is not independent in determining every next step she wants to take and continues to depend on the same people who set her on a path of fame, wealth and rivalry from a young age. Perhaps she has never learned from solving problems herself.

She was in a fund named Kingdom Foundation in Riyadh to help the poor with geographical priorities beginning at home for the citizens of any nationality or religion in Saudi Arabia, then in the surrounding countries, in the countries belonging to the Islamic Conference and in Africa. The fund is located in Saudi Arabia, not in Europe. Moreover, countries in Western Europe have a social system.

When she sent to me an unclear rejection letter in which it appeared that her boss was not given the chance to see the funding proposal, I advised the Chairman of the foundation about what is happening in his company where outsiders have more decision power than he does.

Dear Ms. Mouali,

Thank you for your letter of November 25, 2007 to His Royal Highness Prince Alwaleed Bin Talal Al Saud. This matter has been forwarded to my attention as the Managing Director of Kingdom Foundation (KF).

Having read your letter and discussed the matter with Ms. Angawi, we apologize for the inconvenience KF may have caused Aurum Helix. Although we understand that time is of great value to a small NGO, however, KF is inundated with proposals on a daily basis. Ms. Angawi followed standard procedures in requesting a completed Grant Application Form as all applicants are required to complete it. KF has been in the process of instating new procedures for grant application which will be online and will list all requirements and criteria to prevent such situations from recurring.

Rest assured that all electronic files related to Aurum Helix have been deleted. I solely maintain the folder you enclosed with your letter which contains a hard copy of the project proposal. This copy will remain in my archive.

As stated by Ms. Angawi in her correspondence with you, KF will not in any way influence Aurum Helix's decision to register as a formal organization. Should you register, I will forward your proposal to Ms. Angawi for evaluation. Please note, the evaluation procedures that the International Projects Department follows involve a thorough investigative grant giving process that extends to between 6 and 9 months from the date of a proposal's receipt. It necessitates the compilation of information, comparing/contrasting all costs in submitted budgets, and includes an assessment of its viability, feasibility and impact. A final report, with appropriate recommendations, is then submitted to HRH Prince Alwaleed Bin Talal for a decision.

The environment at KF is one of cooperation and collaboration, in the true sense of the word. When KF does not fund a project, KF staff very often offer to connect applicants with potentially interested organizations. Ms. Angawi's offer to forward your project stems from this environment and was meant to connect Aurum Helix to funders through her network. In the event you had agreed, you would have been copied on all correspondences. No such emails were sent and there is no chance of a leak.

KF team wishes Aurum Helix all the success in its future endeavors.

Sincerely,

 Muna AbuSulayman
 Executive Director

So, what is Cardinal Mathieu's problem?
He doesn't want any money from Muslims in Africa
Otherwise he won't find any more victims for prostitution-slavery

To enjoy that too, or to get some money too, Félicien Alex Maurice de Wouters van

Oplinter (who calls himself Clément Feraud) has decided to dress up as an Islamist, to have an Islam teacher by his side and to live in Saudi Arabia to study all those funds yonder up close, how he can do money laundering yonder, and to block the way for aid to the poor all over Africa in that region, so that his Red Cross and his Red Crescent can prevail everywhere.

He does that by putting his friends there, like Muna Abusulayman, to whom he has shown how she can get all that money themselves, with fake identities, with fake projects abroad, with fictitious employments with secret accounts in other countries. He looks like a hero, but it is crime.

He must be the one who taught Miss Muna Abusulayman how to hack the banking system and how to lie to the bankers. It's unlikely that Miss Abusulayman would create secret accounts on her own. Cardinal Dominique Mathieu must be the man who told her upfront on what to tell the bankers:

- At Deutsche Bank in Bonn, for example, she indicated that she was an executive secretary at a major stockbroking firm in New Orleans.
- At Goldman Sachs She allegedly said she worked for her country's secret service.
- At Bank of New York Mellon, she allegedly said she was a flight attendant at American Airlines.
- At Barclays Bank in England, she allegedly said she was a co-pilot at the 24 hours of Le Mans in a Porsche car.
- At Piraeus Bank in Mykonos in Greece, she allegedly said she was a hotel owner in Brittany (France).
- In Morocco, at Attijariwafa Bank in Fes she said she was a sheep trader
- At Julius Baer Bank in Switzerland, she allegedly said she was the owner of a brewery
- She was said to be a pilot by profession, which she reported at Crédit Lyonnais Bank in Strasbourg.
- At HSBC Bank in New Delhi, she would have said she was a diamond merchant.

At first I thought that she was mentally unstable, but now that Clément Feraud is in picture, I think he taught her how to embezzle the charity of HRH Prince Alwaleed bin Talal.

The purpose of that fund is not to help rich people from the West. This is where Muna Abudulayman makes a mistake. She did and the other mistake is that she travelled with them to different countries until she experienced their arrogance first hand.

Possibly she followed Clément Feraud to Laayoune, Because she has known him the longest. I cannot imagine an Arab woman going alone to an area occupied by Polisario Front terrorists.

Therefore, I will verify whether he was there, on which flight he went yonder and whether he took her there, because after all, she was "her father's friend", wasn't she? Possibly he was the Frenchman who owns the huge villa where the rape and the filming of it took place.

The reason why Ms Muna Abusulayman was not killed after a terrible rape after which her entire reproductive system had to be removed is what we discover today: that is the link between her father and Cardinal Mathieu Abu Hussein Clément Feraud Félicien de Wouters of Paris 12.

The other reason why they did not kill her is to extort large sums of money from her if she wants to prevent the video they had made of her rape in Laayoun from coming to the open for the whole world and especially the Saudi authorities. She is not alone on that video. That they show the video

Yet another reason is the child that had resulted from that rape. She was forced to give up the child and sell it to a Belgian childless couple. The relinquishment was essentially to prevent the child from receiving an Islamic upbringing.

I doubt the child will get a Christian or upbringing which is just as good. I fear it will be a dangerous killer monkey or a child soldier like Ms Marleen Seymour who was raised by the FARC guerilla in the jungles or Columbia and who got very rich doing the work of the skinner. She reportedly was one of the people who cut Mr Jamal Khashoggi in pieces, because that is her job:

His Excellency Simon Harris, The
Taoiseach of the Republic of Ireland:
Marleen Seymour was a child soldier raised by militia members of the FARC in Colombia (pdf) (français - Nederlands) (mou)

Miss Marleen Seymour was trained in 1996 as a butcher in Paris to become the skinner of Mons in 1997 (français - Nederlands)

Is Marleen a godly or a godless person?

So will the baby of Miss Muna Abusulayman also become. To guarantee this he better be raised by the monsters from here, given their economy is shaped like that because human trafficking is the driver, and because of the Red Cross and Red Crescent who need to tap blood from somewhere. He risks only to end up the leader of IS. A child soldier only carries out what the instruction says regardless of the victim, even if she is the mother, like Cardinal Dominique Mathieu's nephews have done to their mother, simply because she was Jewish. They made their mother's body unrecognisable simply because she had diamonds and investment bonds of Delhaize and Parfumerie Dougla.

Forcing her to give up the child right after birth is to blackmail her with it later, because Blackmail is the culture in Belgium. It is not Catholicism or Christianity. When their Sofina holding needs billions, they will look for her to make her pay as much as possible, if she wants her child back. It is her birthright to look after her child herself.

Extortion and racketeering is how they raise capital for expanding their food industry. That's how those Belgian gangsters are. One better never runs into them. That is why I suggest Magrexit and From Mawazine to Panama Papers as tools for learning to recognise the Enemy in facts and figures, not just in facts as most history books attempt. This time, the history book must contain the business corporations, their owners and the banks company banking

They made me homeless in August 2014 with a summons from Bailiff Dirk Duflou to pay

12 000 euro to the bailiff or to be put out of the apartment. It turns out that the summons was fake and that bailiff too. The gang of Brabant killers, Miss Anne Verhoeven in particular, in order to get hold of archives and documents, notes, diskettes, CD Roms or anything to find out about multicultural incubator projects, group purchasing of electricity, cell regeneration for skin care, and anything with which I could put Morocco on the map. They hate Morocco. My response to them is the finger. I am sending all the hatred back in their face

Ever since, I have been hiding in other peoples' homes and in shelters. I have discussed my situation in a letter to His Holiness Pope Francis, which I have the honour to share with you. I am discussing my observation that few locals in Belgium use the shower every day. They don't like getting wet, and they wipe the important body part with a damp cloth to spray deodorant on it and to pretend having taken a shower. That is the relationship they have with water and soap.

It even goes so far as carrying microscopic worms that they transmit to healthy people if one sits too close. I isolated and photographed sample worms that arrive like dust in the eyes, that can make a person blind. How can a human being live without ever thinking of taking a shower? These are people who wonder where cancer comes from.

Eso es obra de una especie que ni siquiera sabe lo que es una ducha

I'll be sure to translate my letter for our brothers and sisters in Chiclayo. It's a matter of using my Spanish more. I know you are very important to them. I saw the report on Al Jazeera Arabic channel about Peruvians celebrating the election of Pope Leo XIV, a humble bishop from Chiclayo. Only through the airwaves could I feel the love of real people for their pastor turned pope. It's amazing.

I am still discovering Cardinal Dominique Mathieu and I might come across new details that I will share in the next letter.

I thank you in advance for your time and kind attention and for your precious time, Your Holiness Pope Leo XIV
